IN THE SQUABBLEDrastic Action To Be Taken Against the Guilty
Ones.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Champagne. Jim Get. 13—Many persons were injured today in a riot caused by an attempt of the University students to break their way into the opera house where a vaudeville show was in progress.

Considering a football victory over

Indiana, the students laid signs on the theatre. They were required to stage hands and police men armed with clubs to

Edgar Lilliana, a high school student, was knocked unconscious. A chorus girl was hit in the head by a brick hurled through a dressing room window. Two other chorus girls were hit on the head and carried off. The audience thought it was over for the show and did not know what to do. After a few moments, a stage hand, suffered a blow on the head from a stone that came through a window.

Mob Was Calmed Down.

When the mob was at its height

gates were breached by the defeners of the theatre. The students and the spectators, members of athletics, faced the mob and dis-sauaged the students from further attack.

"Murder will certainly result if you don't quit," said Huff, "you will kill the students."

The first chapter of tonight's proceedings came with the exciting news that the Illinois legislature had approved a bill to prohibit crowd racing, and its automobile and finally gave up the effort to make and display an Orange and Green banner.

After a short time, the speaker,

the crowd raced to the opera house, where they were surrounded by a mob of students who protested

the front entrance.

Battle at 2:12 P.M.

A detonation was made to the side door, where the battle was fought.

Bricks were hurled at the windows of the theatre, and the mob and party battered down. It was when a stage hand, armed with a revolver, fired at the crowd, and the mob and threatened to shoot that Director Huff pressed his way through the crowd and made his escape.

The University of Illinois authorities declared that drastic action would be taken against the guilty students.

ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES AT ALBERTA COLLEGE

Methodist Theologians Pursue All the Best Known Games to Offset the School's Chronic Anæsthesia—Overcoming Into Form.

This year Alberta College is particularly active in athletics. The full round of sports are fully organized. These include soccer, rugby, tennis, basketball, football, baseball, etc. A. C. cleavans are getting into shape to play anything in the cricket field, and numberless games are being played in the gymnasiums. The sophomores were fresh no longer. The sophomores more heartily welcomed the new comers.

BIBLE SOCIETY OFFICIALS SPEAK AT ALBERTA COLLEGE

The Rev. Dr. R. H. Miller, M.A., general secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, to Alberta College, yesterday afternoon, was particularly appreciated because of the fact that he was present with confidence and courage, as far as the students of Alberta College were concerned.

The proceedings wound up with a supper and a friendly gathering, for the students, the Rev. Dr. Miller, and A. C. cleavans are getting into shape to play anything in the cricket field, and numberless games are being played in the gymnasiums. The sophomores were fresh no longer. The sophomores more heartily welcomed the new comers.

CHANCELLOR BIRKBECK AT ALBERTA COLLEGE

The students of Alberta College were honored with a visit from the venerable head of Victoria College, The Rev. Dr. Birkbeck, yesterday morning at their Y. M. C. A. meeting. The chancellor addressed the meeting on the essential points of the gospel, the importance of a patriotic religious experience. He placed this before the social and educational features of religious life. The Rev. Dr. Miller, in his sermon on the economy of God. His address was much appreciated as the expression of the deep interest in the service of God and humanity.

ROBERTSON COLLEGE

Robertson College may be more in number this year and have every prospect of playing a greater part in the religious life of the city. The church and a wide variety of religious activities are the chief interest of the students of the University. In the latter respect they are handicapped by reason of distance, but with the assured good luck of the west, this drawback is only temporary.

The student body of this year has shown a decided interest in the leadership of A. L. Carr, a world-famous graduate of the university. Other officers are: Vice president, M. S. Kerr; secretary-treasurer, G. H. Drummond; editor of the "Globe"; V. L. Lees; athletic president, T. H. Parker; devotional editor, G. H. Oliver; Dr. Oliver, Dr. Benson and Thomas Sheldon (chairman); librarian, James Fulton.

EXPECT RECORD SHOW OF DRY FARM PRODUCTS

Exhibitors can do if they get ready for the opening on Monday evening. The grounds are nearing completion, and the exhibits from the Canadian government, the provinces, and the Canadian states will be in place before this evening. However, it is too early to write the record down, as there are many in various states and provinces. It is enough to know that Alberta is there, and that the exhibits from the Canadian provinces are: British Columbia and Manitoba. That is not all, for the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, which they could not afford to let Canada beat the congress and exposition both in this year, so Washington is 22 hand, backed up by Oklahoma, and the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba, and Forest, are the only ones in the other states. They are all but the best, the best being shown at the opening. The display is for a record-breaking display of dry farming products.

The champion dry farmer, who is Morrison, had originally come from the U. S. and had been there for 10 years, had to dry farm or quit farming. In 1890 he joined the trek to Southern Alberta, and in 1900 he began to farm to the best of his ability on scientific lines. He contended with the best in the U. S. and Canada in favor of dry farming and carried on his scientific methods, reading his books and papers, and attending the Agricultural college.

FOOLISH RESTRICTION. The Winnipeg Telegram has made the discovery that the Government has a trade policy, and that it is "larger trade within the Empire." The information is timely, if the policy is not an over hopeful one. There has been a pretty general notion that the Government did not know what it was about trade policy, which may not be altogether terminated by the Telegram's assurance. The prospect of selling mutton in Australia and wheat in India is not one to arouse wild enthusiasm on the part of the farmer. If the Ministers really propose to look for markets within the bounds of the Empire, their researches will not do much toward making the farmer rich or the material basis of the Empire strong.

BREAKING DOWN

"THE OLD GUARD." Five vacancies in the Senate will be filled before Parliament meets. The Ministers are losing no opportunity of reducing the Liberal majority in the Upper House. Once their friends are in the majority there the Western farmers may say "Adieu" to the Grain Act. The clauses were only saved last session by the resolute stand of the Liberal Senators; the Conservative Senators, under Senator Lougheed—Government leader in the Upper House and solicitor for the C.P.R.—voting solidly with the Liberal party. Whether the legal securities to the farmer of a fair share of cars is wiped out or not depends simply on whether the Borden Government outlives the Liberal majority in the Upper House.

MANITOBA "JUSTICE." Surely no more shameful travesty on justice has ever occurred in Canada than that which Magistrate McMicken, of Winnipeg, declares himself to have perpetrated in the trials of two men accused of infractions of the election laws in the Macdonald by-election. That prima facie case of criminal charge should be tried at some other time and place than that appointed and without notice to the prosecuting parties or lawyers, and that they should be left off with fines when the law explicitly demands a jail sentence for their offence is making politicians an easy prey to established and basing the instruments of justice into the tools of tyranny. The incident serves to clear up one point—why Mr. McMicken was appointed a magistrate. Hugh John MacDonald was evidently not dirty enough to administer "justice" according to the ideas of the Roblin Government.

MR. MONK'S RETIREMENT. From Ottawa comes news that Mr. Monk has tendered his resignation as Minister of Public Works. It is further said that he declines to be muscled by his appointment to a judgeship, and will retain his seat in Parliament and his freedom to speak his mind. The cause of his retirement is, of course, disagreement with his colleagues on the navy question. Mr. Monk is holding it to be the duty of the dominion to support the naval proposal to the people—in accord with the arrangement made by Mr. Borden with the Nationalist leaders before the late election, and in consideration of which he received Nationalist support in the election, and since.

It would be hoped for many reasons that the running of Mr. Monk's retirement is well-founded. It would be refreshing to learn that there is in the cabinet one man who values principle higher than place, and who will not eschew at the deliberate concoction of predictions and takings for the sake of holding on to even a distinguished and lucrative position. Whatever one may think of the cause to which Mr. Monk is attached he can have only admiration for the integrity of a man who stands by his views to his personal loss. If Mr. Monk, in his judgment, the ground indicated and in the way indicated he will carry into retirement that respect which is the reward—and sometimes the only reward—of fidelity to principle. Nor would this respect be less if there are other members in the Government as much bound to Mr. Monk's principles as he is to the tenets of Nationalism by like action, but who seemingly have no notion of following his example. It is due to Mr. Monk to say that there is nothing in his past record to warrant a supposition that he would remain a member of a Government which had adopted a determined policy on essential matters he was not in full and complete accord. His retirement would, therefore, be welcome as indicating that the Ministers have really at last made up their minds to put some sort of a naval proposal before the country. This would be good news to the Canadian people. It has been insisted by Mr. Borden that Canadian autonomy must not be sacrificed in the name of the Empire. It is upon such representations that the Canadian people, basing their naval proposals, will do well to change the ground before he brings them before the Parliament and people of Canada. Canada is not the master of Great Britain and has neither the right nor desire to pose as such. The Imperial Maritime League may be a means of uniting the British and disinterested persons whose aim is the provision of adequate means of defense at sea. Their representations fit better with the idea that they are an aggregation of armour-plate manufacturers, gun-makers, ship-builders and others who profit through the construction of excessive and costly ships.
